Thank you Bernie, no I have not yet opened Campaign Depository bank account. I would like you to reinstate the reporting exemption since I do not plan or will accept any contributions or campaign expenditures.

Hi Terry,

To recap, you have decided to that you will not finance your campaign although you filed form DSDE 9 Appointment of Treasurer and Designation of Campaign Depository; for clarification, have you opened a bank account?

If you have not opened a bank account, then I can reinstate the reporting exemption and disable any reports you would be required to file via the electronic filing system.

Hi Bernie, I appointed a treasurer and filled the appropriate form. My question is since I have not spent any money on the election and do not plan on spending any money can I drop the treasurers designation and then not worry about contribution and spending reports? If so how do I do it?
