Representing Guatemala, GST LLP applied to annul an ICSID award on the basis of Bulgarian arbitrator Stanimir Alexandrov's alleged failure to disclose ties with an expert witness – a year after Spain successfully annulled an award based on similar allegations. The state also argues there are contradictions in the decision and it violates the res judicata of a previous award issued in the same dispute.

Venezuela triumphs in Dutch Court of Appeals. A US$240 million claim brought by the members of the García Armas family was rejected based on their dual nationality in Manuel Garcia Armas and others v. Venezuela. According to Partner Ignacio Torterola, the judgment confirms that dual nationals bringing claims against their home state “is alien to international law, including investment law.” GST LLP served as counsel to Venezuela, while The Garcías were represented by Freshfields and Dechamps International Law.

12 - February - 2021 — Client News

Represented by GST LLP, Guatemala has lodged a counterclaim in a US$350 million DR-CAFTA dispute with third-party funded mining investors, seeking damages for alleged misrepresentation and a failure to meet environmental commitments. The state alleges that when obtaining their license, Kappes and KCA (the investors that hold licenses for the gold and silver mining projects) "omitted key information" in their environmental impact assessment (EIA), which did not meet international standards and failed to show the effect the projects would have on local water resources.

Powering the "Green Energy Revolution" calls for both foreign investment in mines and universal sustainable practices. Rich in lithium reserves - among other rare materials - certain Latin American countries are well-positioned to help accelerate the world's transition to renewable energy while modeling exemplary sustainable practices that make good sense for the environment, and for business. Co-written by GST LLP Partners Quinn Smith, Diego Brian Gosis, and Ignacio Torterola, the commentary includes insights from mining industry expert Barbara Filas.

Law360 reports on Teco Guatemala Holdings LLC v. Republic of Guatemala. Represented by GST LLP, Guatemala filed an emergency motion to nix a freezing order on nearly $16 million being held by Bank of New York Mellon as a Teco Energy subsidiary tries to enforce a $35 million arbitral award. According to GST, "because of Teco's flawed legal strategy, the funds that were intended to satisfy Guatemala's bond obligations are currently restrained at [BNY Mellon]. And while Guatemala no longer owns or possesses those funds, the bondholders may very well declare a default on the bonds and cause grave financial consequences for the state."

Quinn Smith

Managing Partner at GST | Analyst & Author | Community Activist & Bridgebuilder
Miami

Summary

Moved to Miami over 15 years ago, which was the best decision of my life. In my work career, I am proud to have co-founded GST LLP, a leading international arbitration boutique. But I am equally as proud of supporting and partnering with local organizations, including the Opa-Locka CDC, Community Justice Project, and O, Miami, that unrelentingly work for a better Miami that serves everyone. For a bit more about me, read on.

In the last decade, Quinn Smith has served as counsel or arbitrator before more than 45 arbitral tribunals and ad-hoc committees under the rules of the ICC, ICDR, ICSID, UNCITRAL, and others. The vast majority of these claims involved amounts in dispute over USD 100 million. He has advised clients in Asia, Europe, South and Central America, and the United States, on a broad range of international disputes totaling over USD 10 billion.

Quinn maintains an active practice in state and federal courts in the United States as lead counsel in cases from New York to California. He was lead counsel in the first cases staying the enforcement of ICSID awards, despite ad-hoc committees having permitted enforcement. Other important matters include issues of foreign relations law, the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, and international private law.

Significant cases he's worked on include a dispute for more than USD 8.5 billion brought against Pakistan regarding a failed mining project; an ad-hoc arbitration under the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules regarding a claim of USD $500 million in damages related to the repair, maintenance, and operation of an offshore drilling rig; a USD 5 billion claim regarding an agribusiness venture; and an ICSID revision and annulment proceedings of a USD 1.2 billion claim against Pakistan.

He is one of the founding partners of GST, a leading international dispute resolution law firm, and is based in their Miami office. Committed to community and social impact causes, Quinn sits on the boards of the Community Justice Project, Opa-locka Community Development Corporation, and O, Miami.

Intent on further advancing institutional standards, Quinn holds or has held leadership roles in various industry organizations including the Miami International Arbitration Society, International Chamber of Commerce's Young Arbitrators Forum (ICC-YAF), and ICDR Young & International (ICDR-Y&I). He is an in-demand speaker and author of over two dozen publications related to international disputes. Quinn is fluent in English, Spanish, and Portuguese.
